April 2017 to March 2018

2018
Annual Meeting

April 25 & 26 Moose Jaw

A Year in Review: President's Message

"Leverage the strength and innovation of registered nurses and SUN to positively shape transformational change for the betterment of safe patient care."

powerful statement summing up who we are as a profession and as a Union. This single strategic direction, set by the SUN Board of Directors, has served as a touchstone and constant reminder of our purpose over the course of a year marked by unprecedented change.

If there is one thing I know about registered nurses, it's that we are resilient, adaptable and most importantly, we are extremely resourceful in the face of change and adversity. This willingness to embrace the unknown certainly comes with the territory of our amazing profession.

As the largest group of direct care providers, we view the system from a unique vantage point. It's this frontline, hands-on insight into what is and isn't working and where opportunities for improvements might exist, that perfectly positions us to be leaders in health.

We are leaders not only because of our clinical knowledge and expertise, but also because of where we work. Registered nurses touch the lives of thousands of patients and families, in every corner of our province and health system, every single day. This has equipped us with a wealth of knowledge that can be drawn upon to make things better for everyone.

I can honestly say, with a great sense of pride, that SUN members and our Union have risen to every challenge this past year, with integrity and determination. We knew heading into 2017 that things weren't going to be easy, but we were ready for what lay ahead, and I know our Union is in a stronger position today, than 12 months ago.

A lot can happen in a year

And then there was one

In January 2017, the provincial government announced they will be moving from 12 distinct health regions to a new single Saskatchewan Health Authority in an attempt to curb costs as well as streamline and centralize administrative and managerial services. By December of the same year, this amalgamation had taken place with very little fanfare, but still leaving many unanswered questions about the future.

Budgeting to beat the deficit

Massive health system restructuring wasn't Saskatchewan's only challenge this past year. With the province facing one of its most significant economic downturns in decades and a 1.2 billion dollar deficit, 2017 was riddled with controversial announcements and decisions.

The 2017 provincial budget only served to further fuel a growing uncertainty about the fiscal state of the province. Rampant cuts impacting numerous industries and multiple ministry portfolios became the hallmark of what turned out to be one of the province's most controversial budgets in recent history.

The announcement of a 3.5% wage rollback target for all public-sector workers, along with a nominal 0.7% health spending increase that failed to keep pace with current patient needs and a then projected inflation rate of greater than 2%, left many

SUN members extremely concerned about the future.

For registered nurses on the frontlines of ensuring patient safety in the province, the 2017 budget only served to amplify the pressures they were already feeling. Growing registered nurse burnout due to the demands of increasing patient acuity and complexity, short-staffing and a decade of population growth, were realities that did not align with the persistent downward pressures of the cost-cutting priorities being mandated by government.

A new Premier at the helm

After Brad Wall's surprise August 2017 announcement he was resigning, and the ensuing Saskatchewan Party leadership race, Scott Moe was sworn in as the province's new Premier on February 2, 2018. While only time will tell whether Premier Moe will persist with the proposed budgetary rollbacks of his predecessor, having new leadership in government will provide SUN, and the province, with opportunities to forge new relationships and perhaps chart a new, less radical, course forward.

Listening to understand

On top of the essential core member support functions SUN provides in the areas of labour relations and professional practice, we also undertook a new initiative this past year to strengthen our two-way communications with members. Our focus was twofold: to get out into the field and meet our members, face-to-face, in their own communities and workplaces, on their own terms; and most importantly, to listen.

Our goal was to create opportunities for members to drive conversation and tell us about what's keeping them up at night, or even about what's working well and could be built upon. It was about fostering existing relationships, forging new ones and letting all SUN members know their union is listening and responsive to their concerns – an enhanced connectivity that was critically needed with so many changes underway.

At the end of the summer of 2017, it was all hands-on deck, from the SUN the Board of Directors and management to officers and support staff, for our first ever cross-province member engagement tour. I am so pleased to report that this initial run connected us with close to 800 members and certainly provided us with critical insight into what members are thinking and feeling during these changing, and often unsettling, times.

Registered nurse leadership

Advocating for better, safer care at the bargaining table

SUN contract negotiations are about so much more than wages and benefits. They are an opportunity for true problem-solving with government and the Employer. By looking at all the factors negatively impacting the registered nurse workforce's ability to provide safe patient care, parties can work together towards solutions that will protect patients while ensuring SUN members can maintain a healthy work-life balance.

The November 2017 Bargaining Conference, held in Regina, once again highlighted the pressures SUN members are facing everyday in their workplaces as they strive to provide the highest quality and safest care possible.

Excessive workloads continued to be a burning area of concern for the majority of members in attendance at the Conference. From the outset of the day, a common theme emerged: caring for a sicker, older and growing patient population, in environments that were increasingly resourcestrained and understaffed, is creating the perfect storm for higher rates of registered nurse (and in fact the entire healthcare team) burnout, depression and turnover. When registered nurses are feeling so depleted, patient safety suffers. The fact is, burnout is a very real occupational hazard for patients that has an enormous emotional toll on care providers.

While simply maintaining what SUN members already have in their contract in terms of wages and benefits was important to the Conference delegates, protecting and enhancing their ability to keep their patients as safe as possible was a priority that far outweighed any other. This is a virtue registered nurses and SUN members possess that never ceases to instill in me an immense amount of pride and purpose in our profession and Union. The reality is, collective bargaining continues to be one of the most important advocacy tools for protecting our patients.

SUN was served notice to bargain on January 31, 2018; at the time of publication no bargaining dates had been set with the Employer.

Paul Kuling RN, Second Vice-President and Chair of the Negotiations Committee, addresses the members during the 2017 Bargaining Conference (November).

Putting leadership into practice

On November 15, 2017, Saskatchewan's registered nurses demonstrated their leadership by uniting provincial healthcare stakeholders for the 2017 Health Innovation Summit: Inspiring Tomorrow's Healthcare — a Saskatchewan first.

The event was inspired by the announcement that the amalgamation of the province's former 12 health regions was officially taking place on December 4, 2017. The summit aimed to motivate forward-thinking and creative idea-sharing with the goal of identifying opportunities and tackling challenges through collective community involvement.

Recognizing that everyone in Saskatchewan has a vested interest in our health system and a shared ownership in its success, the summit created a space for groups that traditionally wouldn't be together in the same room at the same time to unite around a common purpose. Delegates included: business, community and health leaders, frontline care providers, regulatory bodies, health sector professional associations, school boards, patients, educators, students and technology entrepreneurs.

Representatives from Alberta Health Services shared lessons from their province's transition to a single health authority in 2009, while the rest of the agenda promoted big-picture thinking, roundtable-discussion and collaboration. Presentations and panel discussions, ranging from how to

Director, and Dr. David McCutheon

Health Region, share their experiences and successes with "Patient-Centred Collaborative Problem-Solving" during

Summit (November 2017).

harness new technologies to improve the delivery of health care to ideas on engaging patients, employers and direct care providers in collaborative problem-solving, rounded out the agenda before delegates participated in a World Café-style afternoon of idea-sharing about the future of Saskatchewan's healthcare system.

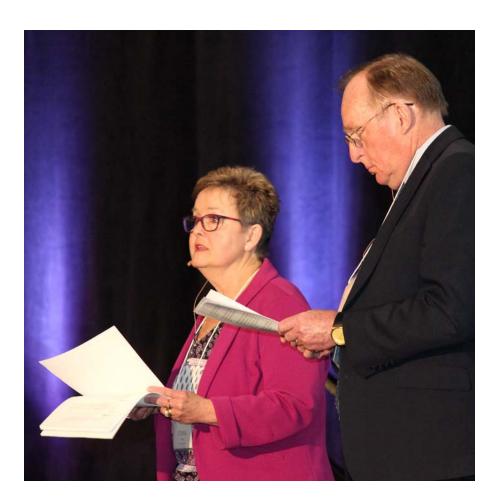

Thanks to registered nursing leadership, this Summit raised the bar for how, moving forward, we can and need to work together to solve some of Saskatchewan's biggest healthcare delivery challenges.

Leave no one behind

Registered nurses have a holistic view on individual and population health and recognize that the best way to make improvements is to address challenges and issues on the frontend by tackling the root causes of poor health. A key component of SUN's vision statement is to work to promote healthy communities across Saskatchewan. Giving back to organizations who are making a difference in their communities, through our annual community support donations, is one way in which SUN can live up to this vision.

This past year SUN was honoured to support three (3) organizations doing amazing work to raise up the community of Lloydminster and surrounding area.

The Olive Tree received $20,000 to go towards the incredible work they do in combating hunger, homelessness and education in the community. The organization services up to 475 people weekly, including young mothers, children, seniors and even school boards requesting food or winter clothing.

The Lloydminster Social Action Coalition Society, a 28-bed men's shelter, was the second recipient of $20,000 in support of the vital food and outreach programs they provide to the community.

Midwest Families was the third organization SUN had the privilege of being able to support in 2017 through our community donation program. They were the recipient of $10,000 to assist them in the provision of programs and services for families and caregivers in the areas of family support, early learning, parent education and developmental screening.

Engaging the public in promoting quality health care

The linkages between public understanding about the role registered nurses play in ensuring patient safety and the advancement of quality healthcare in the province cannot be understated.

When those who rely on the health system recognize how important each team member is in the delivery of safe patient care, they demand more of their elected officials and healthcare decision-makers. In 2017, SUN continued to lead the way in educating the public about the value registered nurses bring to the team.

Now in it's sixth year, the Making the Difference campaign has consistently been a foundational pillar in positioning registered nurses as irreplaceable members of the healthcare team, who are integral to ensuring the safety and wellbeing of our province's patients and families.

Once again, Saskatchewan physicians came forward to talk about their important professional relationship with registered nurses. This collaboration has been key to promoting team unity, while advancing important campaign messaging in an often-strained healthcare environment.

The campaign's success in reaching Saskatchewan audiences has continued to reach new heights. This can be attributed to SUN's responsiveness to shifting audience opinions and attitudes, gauged through consistent public polling and focus group testing, and evolving media and content consumption practices.

A few highlights: Digital ads were served over 15M times to the people of Saskatchewan in 2017. People were browsing more pages on the campaign website and spending more time on key pages than ever before; indicating higher levels of interest and more information being absorbed. Overall, website sessions were up 25% compared to 2016, with a notable 110% increase in visits to the "About" page. Television, outof-home, print and digital marketing tactics continued to surpass campaign objectives. For every media dollar invested, SUN received $1.60 in value. A fantastic return on investment.

Perhaps one of the most promising trends was the growing interest and engagement from the younger, 25-34 year-old demographic. This is a positive reflection of the relevance of core campaign messaging.

The way forward

The wheels have been set in motion when it comes to health transformation in our province and it is important we, as registered nurses and as a Union, continue to embrace change and forge a path forward that firmly establishes us as leaders. Now more than ever, our patients are relying on our resolve to speak up for them, to be their voice, to advocate for better, safer care, and to defend their rights.

Looking to the year ahead, SUN will continue to explore new opportunities to expand on the innovative and unifying work of the 2017 Health Innovation Summit. We will also continue to foster new partnerships within government, the Saskatchewan Health Authority and the broader healthcare community, that will ensure member concerns and ideas for improvements are being heard.

We will use contract negotiations as an opportunity to elevate member concerns about patient safety to decision-makers and do our utmost to enact changes that will have real and tangible positive impacts on the work lives of registered nurses and experiences of their patients everywhere.

Our Employment Relations and Nurse Practice Officer teams will continue to be our first-line of contact with members, providing invaluable support and expertise in what will no doubt be another challenging year ahead. We will also, however, explore opportunities to build on the successes of our first-ever member engagement tour, seeking out new ways to ensure SUN members always feel connected to, and supported by, their Union.

Finally, we will use the Making the Difference campaign as a platform to shine a spotlight on some of the biggest social and healthcare challenges facing Saskatchewan, while also showcasing the incredible work SUN members do on the frontlines of tackling these issues every day.

SUN's mission of ensuring our members are healthy, our union is healthy, and the communities we care for and serve are also thriving and healthy, will course through every initiative we undertake in the year ahead.

Garth Wright, RN, Chair

Program Committee

Each year, the Committee is tasked with researching organizations and recommending programs for SUN's annual community donation (Membership Policy 030-M- 2007). We look for organizations and projects that align with the goals of SUN's mission, vision and values, and have a strong component of the social determinants of health.

The Committee meets three (3) times per year. In September, we research and contact charitable and non-profit organizations to determine potential candidates for the donations. In November, we meet to share the results of our research and shortlist potential recipients of funding; these organizations are sent letters and criteria, inviting them to submit proposals. In February or March, the submissions are reviewed against a standard set of criteria and considerations, and recommendations are made to the Board to allot community donation funding to one or more deserving projects.

The 2018 donation will go to the community of Martensville. At the time of submission several organizations have been invited to submit proposals.

The Program committee consists of Carole Smullan, RN (Locals 9, 246, and 290); Bonnie Nelson, RN (Local 68); Jeff Bogdan, RN (Local 75); Lorraine Wilson, RN (Local 151); Michelle Rae, RN, Chair (Local 276); and Mark Henderson, RN, Board Liaison (Local 75).

Financial Statements

Saskatchewan Union of Nurses December 31, 2017

Management's Responsibility

To the Members of Saskatchewan Union of Nurses:

Management is responsible for the preparation and presentation of the accompanying financial statements, including responsibility for significant accounting judgments and estimates in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations. This responsibility includes selecting appropriate accounting principles and methods, and making decisions affecting the measurement of transactions in which objective judgment is required.

In discharging its responsibilities for the integrity and fairness of the financial statements, management designs and maintains the necessary accounting systems and related internal controls to provide reasonable assurance that transactions are authorized, assets are safeguarded and financial records are properly maintained to provide reliable information for the preparation of financial statements.

The Board of Directors and Finance Committee are composed entirely of Directors who are neither management nor employees of the Saskatchewan Union of Nurses ("SUN"). The Board is responsible for overseeing management in the performance of its financial reporting responsibilities, and for approving the financial information included in the annual report. The Finance Committee has the responsibility of meeting with management and the external auditors to discuss the internal controls over the financial reporting process, auditing matters and financial reporting issues. The Committee is also responsible for recommending the appointment of SUN's external auditors.

MNP LLP is appointed by the members to audit the financial statements and report directly to them; their report follows. The external auditors have full and free access to, and meet periodically and separately with, both the Committee and management to discuss their audit findings.

March 20, 2018

Executive Director

Independent Auditors' Report

To the Members of Saskatchewan Union of Nurses:

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Saskatchewan Union of Nurses, which comprise the statement of financial position as at December 31, 2017, and the statements of operations, changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Saskatchewan Union of Nurses as at December 31, 2017 and its statements of operations and changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Revenue recognition

Member dues are recognized in operations in the period to which they apply.

Investment income and other revenue is recognized in operations when earned. Other revenue relates to income earned on parking, condominium rental, administrative fees, annual meeting, and novelty items.

Appropriation

Net assets are appropriated for specified purposes by policy of the Board of Directors. Appropriations are initially determined by an allocation of member dues and adjusted for related expenditures and transfers from (to) available net assets. The purpose of the appropriations is to set aside funds for expenditures anticipated in future years. The Board approves all transfers.

Fund accounting

SUN follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions and reports using fund accounting, and maintains 8 funds: The Operating Fund, Collective Bargaining Defense Fund, Campaign Fund, Legal Challenge Fund, Legal Assistance Fund, Member Education Fund, Capital Fund, and Convention Fund.

- The Operating Fund is used to account for all revenues and expenses related to general and ancillary operations of SUN.
- The Collective Bargaining Defense Fund is used to defend collective bargaining including providing strike and/or lock out pay, covering member and staff expenses associated with collective bargaining as well as strike or labour dispute averting or supporting campaigns and covering staff and legal expenses associated with running and settling a labour dispute.
- The Campaign Fund is used to reduce the financial burden on the budget while undertaking multi year campaigns.

2. Significant accounting policies (Continued from previous page)

- The Legal Challenge Fund is used to fund costs associated with legal and legislation challenges that have an impact on members.
- The Legal Assistance Fund is used to fund the legal assistance costs for members.
- The Membership Education Fund is used to fund members unbudgeted internal or external education opportunities.
- The Capital Fund is used to reduce the financial burden on the yearly budget to cover major capital expenditures.
- The Convention Fund is used to reduce the financial burden on the yearly budget to cover member attendance at various conventions.

Measurement uncertainty (use of estimates)

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period.

Accounts receivable are stated after evaluation as to their collectability and an appropriate allowance for doubtful accounts is provided where considered necessary.

Amortization is provided using the declining balance method at rates intended to amortize the cost of assets over their estimated useful lives. Leasehold improvements are amortized using the straight-line method over the term of the lease.

Employee benefit accruals include estimates for vacation, overtime and retiring allowance that have been earned.

Accounts payable and accruals include an estimate for member leaves of absence. Member leaves of absence are based on the pay rates and the number of hours of leave for each of the members.

These estimates and assumptions are reviewed periodically and, as adjustments become necessary they are reported in excess of revenues and expenses in the periods in which they become known.

Financial instruments

SUN recognizes its financial instruments when the SUN becomes party to the contractual provisions of the financial instrument. All financial instruments are initially recorded at their fair value.

At initial recognition, SUN irrevocably elected to subsequently measure cash, marketable securities and investments at fair value. SUN subsequently measures all other financial assets and liabilities at amortized cost.

Transaction costs and financing fees directly attributable to the origination, acquisition, issuance or assumption of financial instruments subsequently measured at fair value are immediately recognized in the excess of revenues over expenses for the current period. Conversely, transaction costs and financing fees are added to the carrying amount for those financial instruments subsequently measured at amortized cost or cost.

Financial asset impairment:

SUN assesses impairment of all of its financial assets measured at cost or amortized cost. Management considers whether there has been a breach in contract, such as a default or delinquency in interest or principal payments in determining whether objective evidence of impairment exists. When there is an indication of impairment, SUN determines whether it has resulted in a significant adverse change in the expected timing or amount of future cash flows during the year. If so, SUN reduces the carrying amount of any impaired financial assets to the highest of: the present value of cash flows expected to be generated by holding the assets; the amount that could be realized by selling the assets; and the amount expected to be realized by exercising any rights to collateral held against those assets. Any impairment, which is not considered temporary, is included in current year excess of revenues over expenses.

SUN reverses impairment losses on financial assets when there is a decrease in impairment and the decrease can be objectively related to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognized. The amount of the reversal is recognized in the excess (deficiency) of earnings in the year the reversal occurs.

6. Financial instruments

SUN, as part of its operations, carries a number of financial instruments. It is management's opinion that SUN is not exposed to significant interest, currency, credit, liquidity or other price risks arising from these financial instruments except as otherwise disclosed.

Credit concentration

SUN's accounts receivable consist of member dues receivable, the majority of which are from government-related entities. Management believes that there is no unusual exposure associated with the collection of these receivables.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument might be adversely affected by a change in the interest rates. Changes in market interest rates may have an effect on the cash flows associated with some financial assets and liabilities, known as cash flow risk, and on the fair value of other financial assets or liabilities, known as price risk.

Marketable securities consist primarily of commercial high-grade guaranteed investment certificates and an investment savings account. Accordingly the portfolio maximizes coverage under the Canadian Deposit Insurance Corporation and provides for a return that is low risk and of the most favourable interest rates.

Interest rate risk is mitigated due to the relatively short term nature of the marketable securities and investments.

Climate Goals

Collectivity	 We actively seek information and involvement before we decide and act. We acknowledge and value the views of each member but work together for the benefit of the whole. When decisions have been made, we act and talk in concert.
Democracy	We stop, listen to, and seek understanding of ideas that are different from our own.
Equality	There is equality, fairness and respect in all our dealings with each other.
Honesty, Integrity	 There is consistency and congruency between each person's words and actions. People freely express and listen to concerns, feelings and facts. When conflicts arise we seek resolution face to face, and in ways that are personal and respectful.
Caring, Compassion and Social Justice	 We tackle problems, not people. We treat each other as individuals and find ways to offer each other tangible support and care.

Rules and Privileges

- SUN climate goals will be honoured by all those in attendance.
- SUN members will be identified by wearing SUN membership cards.
- Members are required to sign in at the start of the meeting. This will be used to determine quorum.
- Speakers will use a microphone when addressing the chair.
- Speakers must be acknowledged by the chair before addressing the assembly.
- A speaker addressing the chair will state his/her name, local number and name, and SUN district.

- All remarks must be addressed to the chairperson and confined to the question before the assembly.
- All members in good standing may address the convention. (NOTE: Honourary members are not entitled to make motions.)
- Each member in attendance, with the exception of honourary members, will be entitled to one vote.
- When the doors are tiled/sealed for a standing vote or during the election process, no one will be allowed to enter or exit the meeting room.

- Staff and guests can address the convention if requested by the assembly but have no vote.

- All pagers and cell phones are to be turned off or on vibrate during the meeting.

Robert's Rules of Order

When conducting business meetings, such as the Annual Meeting and the Bargaining Conference, SUN follows Robert's Rules of Order. The following is a brief overview to assist members during the meeting.

The purpose of "Robert's Rules of Order" includes the following:

- Ensure majority rule
- Provide order, fairness and decorum
- Facilitate the transaction of business and expedite meetings

Basic Principles

- All members have equal rights, privileges and obligations
- Full and free discussion of every motion is a basic right
- Only one question at a time may be considered, and only one person may have the floor at any one time
- Members have a right to know what the immediately pending question is and to have it restated before a vote is taken
- No person can speak until recognized by the chair
- Personal remarks are always out of order
- A two-thirds vote is required for any motion that deprives a member of rights in any way (e.g., cutting off debate)

Role of the Presiding Officer

 — the presiding officer must relinquish the chair in order to debate the merits of a motion

- Vote only to create or break a tie (or 2/3 for matters requiring a 2/3 vote) — exception: the presiding officer may vote on any vote by ballot
- Introduce business in proper order
- Recognize speakers
- Determine if a motion is in order
- Keep discussion germane to the pending motion
- Maintain order
- Put motions to a vote and announce results

General Procedure for Handling a Motion

- A member must obtain the floor by being recognized by the chair.
 Remember to state your name and local number.
- Member makes a main motion (See Quick Reference Guide on page 28)
- A motion must be seconded by another member before it can be considered
- If the motion is in order, the chair will restate the motion and open debate (if the motion is debatable)
- The maker of a motion has the right to speak first in debate
- The main motion is debated along with any Subsidiary motions (e.g. "I move to amend the motion

- by ...", Privileged motions (e.g. "I move to postpone the motion to ...") and Incidental motions (e.g. "I move to divide the question.")
- Debate on Subsidiary, Privileged and Incidental motions (if debatable) takes precedence over debate on the main motion and must be decided before debate on the main motion can continue
- Debate is closed when: Discussion has ended, or a two-thirds vote closes debate ("Call the question")
- The chair restates the motion, and if necessary clarifies the consequences of affirmative and negative votes
- The chair calls for a vote, by a show of hands, asking "All in favor?" "All opposed?" and finally asking "All abstained?"
- The chair announces the result

General Rules of Debate

- No members may speak until recognized by the chair
- All discussion must be relevant to the immediately pending question
- No member can speak more than once to each motion — does not preclude points of information that may be raised
- All remarks must be addressed to the chair — no cross debate is permitted

- It is not permissible to speak against one's own motion (but one can vote against one's own motion)
- Debate must address issues not personalities — no one is permitted to make personal attacks or question the motives of other speakers
- The presiding officer must relinquish the chair in order to participate in debate and cannot reassume the chair until the pending main question is disposed of
- Members may not disrupt the assembly
- Rules of debate can be changed by a two-thirds vote

Bargaining Conference (November 2017)

Tips for Speaking

SUN members are encouraged to ask questions and provide their feedback during discussion of resolutions, discussion papers, and/or following presentations and reports. The floor during all SUN meetings, including the Annual Meeting, is intended to be a safe and welcoming environment for all SUN members to feel free to speak their minds in a respectful setting.

- Before approaching the microphone, take a moment to gather your thoughts, write them down to ensure you are clear and concise in your question/comment.
- When it is your turn to speak, don't forget to state your name, local #, and whether you are a first time speaker before you state your question or comment. First time speakers get a prize!
- Questions and comments must be presented to the Chair of the meeting and address the motion or discussion before the assembly, not individuals. Everyone's comments and opinions are valuable and should be treated with respect and dignity. This key principle is what ensures we have a - safe and welcoming environment for members to speak and be heard.
- Be sure to speak clearly and directly into the microphone. Try not to move or look around as you speak. Make sure you are an appropriate distance from the microphone — not too far and not too close. While awaiting your turn to speak, adjust the microphone (not the stand) to ensure you are speaking into the microphone and can be heard.

QUORUM is the number of registered members that are entitled to vote who must be present in order to legally transact the meeting's business. SUN's Bylaw 3.10 (vi) states that the quorum for a general meeting of the union shall be a majority of those members registered in attendance on each day of the meeting. Therefore, if on any given day 300 members are registered, quorum would be 151 members. If at least 151 members remain at the meeting, business, including voting on resolutions, can proceed.

NOTE: Quorum and the number of votes required to carry a motion are two separate issues. For example, x number of members are registered on any given day. A majority of those constitute a quorum to carry on the business of the day. Of that quorum, a majority or 2/3 of the members present and voting will determine if a motion passes or is defeated.

Duties include: respond to questions of clarification about Rules of Order either by the chair or the assembly; discreetly draw to the attention of the chair any errors in following the Rules of Order; and acts as an expert on the Rules of Order to help facilitate the business of the assembly.

NOTE: A parliamentarian does not vote or debate the issues before the assembly.

Statement on a Harassment-free Convention

We, as SUN members, agree that everyone here has equal value.

Harassment Divides the Union

Racism, sexism, and other forms of harassment pit groups of workers against one another and divide unions. Division undermines our struggle for social and economic justice.

Harassment Hurts People

Racist and sexist remarks and graffiti create unease and stress among people. Victims of the remarks never know what other forms of harassment this will lead to. We must ensure our words are not empty, not defeated through any action that embarrasses insults, humiliates or degrades.

When a Joke is Not a Joke

Racial, ethnic, and sexist jokes originated in those times when groups of people were socially under attack and lacked the power to respond effectively. These jokes are a reminder of this history. They can create an environment where more serious forms of discrimination and abuse can happen.

What to Do

Complaints of harassment at SUN events will be taken seriously and will be investigated immediately. If you believe you are being harassed, act immediately:

1. If possible, make it clear you do not welcome such behavior. You can do so either on your own, verbally or in writing, or with the assistance of another party. Indicate you will take further action if the behavior continues.

If the inappropriate behavior persists, approach one, or both, of the designed representatives who will investigate the matter.

You may seek out the designated anti-harassment representatives in the first instance, if you are unwilling to approach the harasser because of the impact the action(s) have on you.

Equality and Solidarity

We must all work together to advance the cause of working people. Harassment divides us. It has no place at this convention. As sisters and brothers we will not make comments or gestures, or commit any acts that are humiliating or derogatory, or cause another member to feel uncomfortable.

We declare this a harassment-free convention, and encourage SUN members to challenge issues, not individuals.
